

ACIPC

Australasian College
for Infection Prevention and Control

INFECTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL WEEK

MONDAY

Professional development

- Progress your career with ACIPC's range of courses, webinars, templates and resources.
- Expand your knowledge by getting involved in ACIPC's Aged Care Community of Practice.
- Engage with peers in our forums Infection Connexion and Aged Care Connexion.

TUESDAY

Healthcare worker safety

Let's keep healthcare workers safe and reduce transmission by always using standard precautions:

- Perform hand hygiene.
- Use and dispose of sharps safely.
- Use personal protective equipment.
- Clean and reprocess equipment.
- Use respiratory hygiene and cough etiquette.
- Perform routine cleaning.
- Use aseptic technique.
- Safe handling of linen and waste
- Keep vaccinations up to date

WEDNESDAY

Patient safety

- Partner with patients, residents, and healthcare consumers can help improve the safety and quality of care.
- Share information to encourage participation and collaboration.
- ACIPC has a great range of consumer resources to help.

THURSDAY

Public health preparedness

- Public health preparedness must be inclusive and equitable, addressing the unique needs of diverse communities, ensuring that everyone is protected and supported during public health emergencies.
- ACIPC partners with GOARN (the Global Outbreak Alert and Response Network) to prepare and respond to global health threats.

FRIDAY

IPC in all settings

- Infection prevention should be consistent and equitable across all healthcare settings.
- ACIPC assists in supporting best practices in all settings, including: acute care, aged care, community, dentistry, childcare, beauty and cosmetic, veterinary

13-19 OCTOBER 2024